Middle Age.

All over; aye, I look at mine own hand, That quite has lost the lissom grace of youth, But if its living pulse I understand, Fit yet to hold its own for love or truth Scarce meet for pretty pledge or kiss of lover,

Yet fond and firm for clasping in another. Over and done; I sit before the glass, Drawn full into the sunahine's ruthless glare,

I see the crowsfoot where the soft bloom was, The silver threads set in the bright brown hair; My mirror never flashed me beauty back, So now, perchance, I have the less to lack.

And yet for all it's over, in the face, That gazes sad and patient back on me, I fancy love suight read some quiet grace, Some touch of matron calm serenity, The eyes that live on children's life for years

Gain something surely from their smiles and tears. Must it be over? one by one they flash, To their own place, these cherished stars of ours,

During the storm in courses blind and rush. Seeing no serpent coiled among the flowers; Leaving us stranded on the lonely shore, Where the long waves chant, " Never, never more."

They will not, may not, cannot come again; The bond is snapped, and the great current, sweeping Each little beat on to the mighty main, Over each barrier in its fory leaving, Bears them in its resistless might along.

From weeck or haven, gain, loss, prize, or wrong. For us, it all is over; though sometimes We feel old power pulse our being yet. "Past, past !" the voice of fate around us chimes, Past aim and dream, vain struggle or regret !

Put by the mirror, let the hand alone, The last card has been dealt, the game is done. -"All the Year Round."

VARIETY.

The average small boy's ambition is to be a trapper, a pirate, or a song-and-dance-man. " Great heavens!" he murmured, as the dealer named the price, " I don't want a whole strawberry; I only want a small slice off the

The name of a New Hampshire school-teacher is May I. Cough. It is much more common to hear school-teachers addressed as May I. Gwout. The difference between honor and discretion is that honor tells you not to hit a man when he's down, and discretion warns you to be careful about hitting him when he isn't down. Premiums will soon be offered for certain positions which hitherto have not been more than ordinarily popular. For example, the position of coachman to a wealthy man with grown up daughters.

An enterprising Jersey farmer wants to know what is the latest style of fence. Walt Whitman's poetry. If in this season of banana skins on the side walks any flag should pull down the American man-shoot him away from that spot. Love rules the court, the camp, the grove, and earth below and heaven above, but it never sewed a gray patch in the seat of your husband's back trousers That isn't love. That's revenge. [Andrews' Bazar. " Look pleasant," said the photographer to Charles Francis Adams; "smile a little." Mr. Adams slowly and frigidly smiled. " Mother of Pluto!" howled the artist, "cry! cry a little! That'll help your expression some!' Mother (to daughter who has just given alms to a poor tramp) :- " Now, what in the world did you do that for? Suppose he should buy rum with it?" Poor Tramp (overhearing and making a low bow) -" But I promise I will not, my dear madame. I prefer gin.'

THOROUGH ECONOMY .- First toper: " Why do I come to Highgate? Because I get my drink for a penny a glass cheaper." Second toper: "Yes, but it cost you the bus fare to get there. First toper: "True, man; but, once here, I drink till I make profit."

Patrick-" And, Biddy, darlint, they've been tellin' me there's too many of us in the wurrld. Now, if you and me get the praste to make us two wan, troth won't there be wan the less?" " I suppose the bells are sounding an alarm of fire," sneeringly said a man as the church bells were calling the worshippers one Sunday morning; to which a clergyman who was passing replied: "Yes, my friend: but the fire is not in this world." An old genius who lives at Westfield, Mass. but expects to die, has made a will in which he bequeaths $1 to each man, woman and child who attends his funeral. He will be certain to have a large following to the grave. The Louisville " Courier-Journal " has discovered a young lady who blushes, goes to bed at nine b'clock, eats heartily, speaks plain English, respects her mother, doesn't want to marry a lord, and knows how to cook. She must be one of Edison's new inventions. A young lady was never born that way.

A Georgia colored debating society was lately discussing, "Which is the better for the labouring man, to work for wages or part of the crop?" An old "uncle" spoke the sense of the meeting when he thought " bofe was de best, if dey could only be brung to gedder somehow."

A Harrison county (Ky.) jury has decided that if a man shoots at another, misses him and kills a third, he should not be punished. He goes free because he did not kill the right man. The lawyers in the defense argued that if he had killed the man he shot at he could not be punished either, as it would have been a clear case

Punch's cartoon on the Egyptian crisis is admirably drawn. The Khedive is sitting upon a heavily-laden dankey, and flourishes a stick inscribed "Taxation." The English and French Cabinet Ministers, Rivers Wilson and De Blignieres, are striving to allore with bundles of carrots the disconsolate ass, but the Khediye roars - " Clar de way, you giaours; he's a berry fine donkey when I'm lowed to ride him myself and plenty of stick." At the entrance of a restaurant in Pesth where young ladies are employed to stand and wait, is posted a notice reading : " Gentlemen are requested to abstain from kissing the waitresses on the stairs, as this is a fruitful source of breakage, and impedes the service. Human nature being the same the world over, the placerd calls a great many customers who the placard calls a great many customers who are anxious to see the girls whom they are onno newspaper man or reporter having said one word in regard to it, I shall, therefore, blow my own horn. It is only recently that Carriages has become so common that almost every bouse that Carriages has become so common that almost every bouse-holder has got one.

IN THE SCRIPTURES, Carriages or Charlots are frequent-ly alluded to. Upon the flight of the Israelites from Egypt, King Pharaoh pursued them with Six Bundred Charlots, all of which were swallowed up by the waters of the Red Sea. And when Israel made up his mind to pay his son Joseph a visit, Joseph telegraphed the old gentleman to come down to Goshen and he would meet him there and drive him down to Exypt in a Jargon, (wacon.)

Charlots and Carriages were mostly used by Kings and Grandees on state occasions.

The Greeks and Bomans had Charlots; but strange to say, it was as late as the sixteenth century, in 1550, that Carriages were introduced into France, and at that date only three were known in Paris, then quite a large city.
